Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 13 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly dry and bright on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy with further rain at times this evening. Becoming mostly dry in the early hours, some clear periods developing across western counties. Staying cloudy in the east. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Thursday:
A mostly dry and bright day with some good sunny spells across the province. The chance of a few showers near the north coast. Mostly light winds. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Dry for most of Friday. Rain spreading east on Friday night clearing to sunshine and a few showers on Saturday. Dry on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.